Dear James:

As the Public Works Director for the City of Marco Island, Florida, I am constantly in search of new and innovative ways to help the citizens, community, and the City.

Recently I have been introduced to a new system for maintaining seawalls, the Dynamic Seawall Maintenance System. Due to the fact that the City of Marco Island has nearly 200 miles of seawall I am interested in any new technologies in this field.

The Dynamic Seawall Maintenance System is of specific interest to me due to its' non-invasive nature, relatively short installation time, quality of materials, and that it is environmentally friendly.

Please feel free to contact me for further details.

Regards,

A. Rony Joel
